

Dean's Message for October 2018

We sincerely thank our Resource Panel persons, Steven Phillips, Greg Chestnut, Dr. Jim Walton and Dr. Dick Benedum for their presentation of a comprehensive list of on-line and print resources for worship planning at our September 21 lunch event. Around 25 attendees heard short verbal presentations and received handouts of worship resources.

A morning of healthy, happy singing will be our next event on Saturday, October 27 with guest clinician Andrew Walker. See details about the Voice for Life Workshop under chapter programs, and please find at the end of the newsletter a ready-made sign-up sheet for you, your volunteer and paid singers, and anyone else who loves to sing. Free!

October brings the beginning of our rich church and community concert season. Check all the listings in our monthly Montre and also on our Chapter website.

In anticipation of our second (could that perhaps be an annual event?) Epiphany social-trivia night on Monday, January 7, here are a few teasers:

What is the oldest and most essential tonal element of the organ?

Did J. S. Bach know of the tremulant?

Nancy Siebecker, Dean

Nancy Siebecker